

For pets

A commitment to pet nutrition

We work closely with veterinarians, breeders, and scientists to develop recipes that enrich the everyday lives of pets. Our products are made from carefully-selected raw materials, and strict quality control during production ensures consistency from batch to batch.

Formulations are developed to meet pets’ needs for various life stages, weight, size, activity level, and sensitivities. The result is private label bone broth solutions that are not only natural, but easy to bring to market, and worthy of the trust of your customers.

Broths

Our slow-cooked bone broths are rich in natural collagen, amino acids, and minerals that support joint health, digestion, and hydration.

Available in a variety of bases — chicken, beef, lamb, moose, turkey, fish, and duck bones — they are functional, clean-label products, ideal as a standalone offering or as a base for your brand’s portfolio.

Sauces

Made from our own nutrient-rich bone broth and liver, these sauces are typically crafted using a single protein source, keeping the composition simple — ideal for pets with sensitive digestion or food allergies. Multiple protein combinations are also possible, offering flexibility for your brand. They enhance taste, improve palatability, and support appetite and hydration, providing an easy way to add functional value and variety to your product range.

Purees

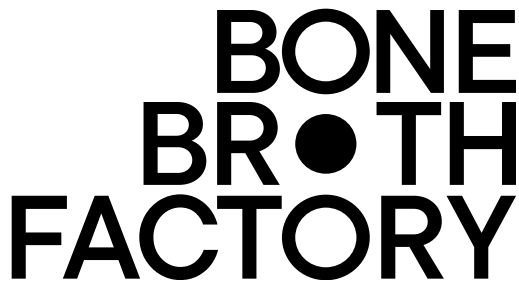

Our bone broth-based purees combine carefully selected ingredients with nutrient-rich by-products to deliver functional, high-fiber nutrition. Ideal as a meal topper, treat, or nutritional boost, they support digestion, gut health, weight management, and better nutrient absorption — offering pet owners a convenient way to add flavor, hydration, and health benefits to their pet’s daily diet. This puree series is perfectly suited for inclusion in your portfolio, providing a premium, ready-to-launch product that aligns with modern pet nutrition trends.

Ready to launch your product?

A good sauce, broth, or purée makes everything better — but perfecting it takes a lot of time and resources. We give you and your chef a head start, along with the assurance that it will taste exactly as you’ve defined it. Our sauces are built on our own authentic bone broths, making them pure and honest — just as they should be.
